Mountain Valley's The Humble Hare Shop Appeals for Volunteers

Mount Airy, NC – Mountain Valley is seeking volunteers for The Humble Hare, its new nonprofit shop in Mount Airy. The shop sells pre-loved clothing, furniture, and home decor to raise funds for hospice care for patients and their families who lack adequate insurance to cover the cost of their care.

The Humble Hare employs one store manager and a part-time employee but relies heavily upon volunteers for its daily operations. Volunteers do not need retail experience, although a passion for fashionable clothing and quality home furnishings is a plus for volunteers who price, sort, and display store merchandise. Additionally, volunteers with the ability to lift furniture are needed to help load and unload the store's delivery truck.

"Our shop volunteers are a fun and friendly team, who graciously donate time out of their week to make a difference for those in need of end-of-life care, grief counseling, and other hospice-related services. The atmosphere of the new store is cheerful and relaxed which makes it a pleasant place to volunteer and shop," says Sara Tavery, Vice President of Philanthropy at Mountain Valley.

As an added incentive to encourage volunteer support, all Mountain Valley volunteers receive a store discount.

Conveniently located by Subway, China 1, and Goin' Postal in the shopping center at 705 West Pine Street, Mount Airy, The Humble Hare is open Tuesday – Saturday, 10 AM – 5 PM. Item donations are accepted by appointment, Tuesday – Thursday.
